RE: Named Insured : Ocwen Loan Servicing
 Additional Insured : Joan Charles
 Property Address : 14 Ditson Street, Dorchester, MA 02122-1406
 Policy # : ALR089903000
 Loan # : 100840636
 Date of Loss : 2/1/04
 Claim # : 00100291021
 Cause of Loss : Fire

We are in receipt of your June 5, 2006 letter concerning the above referenced fire claim. There have been numerous people involved in this claim including but not limited to the Adjuster's from Cunningham Lindsey, the Public Adjuster Mark Petrocelli, R. M. Mancuso & Associates, Ocwen Loan Servicing Attorney Richard C. Demerle and yourself. All of which have been attempting to come to an agreement on the amount of damage to the above referenced property.

Mr. Petrocelli provided an estimate in the amount of $561,805.99, given the vast difference between the Cunningham Lindsey Adjuster's original estimate and the estimate from Mr. Petrocelli, it was agreed that a General Contractor should inspect and provide their estimate; therefore, R. M. Mancuso & Associates were hired.

We did receive an estimate from Mr. Mancuso in the amount of $315,695.29, however Mr. Petrocelli did not agree with the amount as he felt an out of date price base may have been used or various code upgrades may not have been taken into consideration. Mr. Petrocelli contacted Mr. Mancuso concerning these issues. Through our adjuster at Cunningham Lindsey, we received a supplement, written by Mr. Mancuso addressing the issues. The supplemental amount comes to $36,242.83.

We have also been in contact with Richard Demerle concerning the status of the pending court case. It is understood that there have been Motions for Summary Judgment filed with the Court concerning the fire claim. Our file will remain pending final ruling of the Summary Judgments before payment consideration can be made.

RE: Joan Charles v. Ocwen Federal Bank, FSB et al
Case # 04-CV-11625-RWZ

Dear Attorney Michienzie:

This letter is sent in response to your letter dated December 21, 2004. I had hoped to respond sooner but as of December 23, 2004 I have been afflicted with various ailments culminating in surgery on January 21, 2005, from which I am just now getting caught up on prior business.

With regard to settlement, I will be quite frank. It is my belief that ultimately your clients will be found to be responsible for the extensive damages suffered by my client. As both myself and Attorney Barry Greene have stated in lengthy and detailed correspondence and demands made directly to your client (to which we have not received any offer of settlement), our client's demand is and has been that you fully indemnify her for all economic damages suffered by her including all costs and fees incurred, and further pay her a significant sum for the intangible damages and suffering directly attributable to your client's actions and in-actions, some of which can only be described as outrageous.

Once your client has agreed, in principle to this measure of damages as settlement, we can retain experts to appraise the cost of repairs to the house and calculate the remaining economic damages to date, as well as discuss a number that properly represents the less tangible damages suffered by my client. Without retaining such an expert, all I can tell you is that my client has a burned out hulk of a three unit house, has lost and will lose, realistically, at least two years of rent on two of those units, has paid and will pay two years of rent for her own family, and has had numerous additional expenses directly related to the events related in her complaint.

In addition to the out of pocket damages, my client has suffered other harm such as repeatedly being charged with criminal violations of the building code, destruction of her credit, continued harassment by your clients for payment of her mortgage notice of foreclosure proceedings by your clients, being told by an agent of your client that the house has already been foreclosed on, and the trespass on the property by agents of your client.

Having said all this, our best estimate of the economic damages ($750,000.00) was stated in our civil action cover sheet. If your client is anxious to put a number on the remaining damages now, I am sure that any reasonable suggestion as to what such number might be will be seriously considered by my client.

It is, I believe, the position of both MPIUA and One Call, that Ocwen is solely or primarily responsible for my client's damages. Unless some dramatic change in my understanding of the underlying facts of the case comes is put forward, I do not foresee, at least in the immediate future, substantive demands and offers of settlement with these other parties.

In your letter you refer to the scheduling conference. This conference, just to be clear, was not actually attended, in person, by a representative of Ocwen. If I remember correctly, the Judge's first words, when told of your non-appearance, were something to the effect of "Let's default them." Only by the gracious indulgence of the Court, my own cooperation and assent, and the significant efforts of the Clerk, was a phone conference set up and your default avoided. Also, during this phone conference, while the exact words used by the Judge escape me, I believe the other attendees would agree that the Judge informed Attorney Russman, on speaker phone, that unless something dramatic appeared in the initial disclosure documents, she expected Ocwen to make an offer of settlement shortly after such disclosure, telling attorney Russman something to the effect that "I will expect an offer from Ocwen." When attorney Russman equivocated, the Judge repeated herself to much the same effect. In any event,

While we are on the subject of Initial Disclosures, while it appears that you have filed something like a cover sheet with the Court, I have not, as yet, actually received any of the documents you identify as in your clients' custody or control or even a description of each such document. Please provide true copies of all such documents forthwith. These documents are long overdue and may go a long way to narrowing the issues and creating room for a negotiated settlement.

Also, your recitation of Local Rules reminds me that your clients have failed to provide their Corporate Disclosure Statements. Local Rule 7.3 states that a corporate party such as your clients "must" file such a statement upon their first appearance. As such, please also provide such disclosure statements forthwith.

Also, enclosed please find various pleadings, including a Motion to Amend the Complaint to include counts of trespass and a further count of intentional infliction of emotional distress against your client. Please consider this letter a request, under Local Rule 7.1 for your assent to such motion. As you will see from the amended pleadings, the actual counts are fairly straightforward. If you feel, other than obtaining your assent to such motion, that there is some other way that the issues raised in the motion might be, in good faith, narrowed or resolved, please inform me of the same. Unless I hear from you in this regard by noon on Friday, February 11, 2005, I will file same with the Court.

Soon to follow will be several Keeper of Records Depositions, including one for a company called "Assurant Solutions." This entity appears to be an insurance company that is or was adjusting a claim for the subject property on behalf of your clients. Do your clients have insurance that would cover the fire loss? If so, is this something that should have been brought forth long ago? What the heck is going on?

Your client continues to act in a way which I can only think is either purposefully hurtful or completely thoughtless. How dare they break into this woman's house and tell her the property is already foreclosed? Are they bent on destroying her completely? I suggest that rather than lecturing me regarding the local rules and accusing me of distorting the same, that you should counsel your client to stop persecuting Ms. Charles.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Potito:

As stated earlier today by phone, I represent Joan Charles with regard to the property at 14 Ditson Street and the Fire loss of same.

As I also stated by phone, there appears to be a significant amount of confusion as to the status of the property. Although your client may have told you that the property has been foreclosed on, and that the fire loss was some time in October of this year, to the best of my knowledge, this is simply not the case. My client remains the owner of the property.

As such, in an effort to clear some of the confusion, please send me, as soon as possible, by fax or mail all of the documents and correspondence in your possession regarding 14 Ditson Street. Please call if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

James Hoyt

Dear Attorney DeMerle:

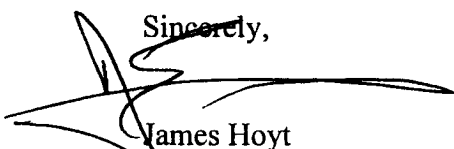

Enclosed please find the insurance check which neither we nor our client have endorsed.

The only reason I can think of for your client insisting that we endorse the check before they do is that they intend to deposit same in their own account and pay Ms. Charles as, when and if they see fit. This is entirely unacceptable. If your clients' intention is to allow the reconstruction of this property to begin as soon as possible, as was discussed at the scheduling conference, there is no reason that the funds would not be made immediately available to Ms. Charles.

If your client is concerned that Ms. Charles might not intend to rebuild the property, this office can provide whatever documentation is necessary to demonstrate that appropriate construction contracts are being negotiated.

Until those funds are made available, no work can begin and the damage to Ms. Charles and the property will continue. As such, please have your client endorse the check and return it to this office as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

James Hoyt
